Helix Floor with Helix Native

The Helix guitar processor is one of the most advanced modelling devices available. Helix Native puts that power into a plug-in for your digital audio workstation. Combining both gives you creative possibilities that are only limited by your imagination.

With complete preset-compatibility you can now move seamlessly between hardware and software and enter a whole new world of possibilities.

Combining Helix Native plug-in and Helix hardware lets you:

- Turn your DAW into a Helix - Helix Native lets you access the same award-winning tones in your computer.
- Control your DAW remotely - use the Helix hardware to start, stop, punch in and more.
- Load Helix Native plug-in tones into the Helix hardware – perform anywhere with your studio tones.
- Record processed and DI tracks simultaneously - use Helix Native to edit your tones afterwards.
- Use Helix as an audio interface - play and monitor your guitar through Helix via USB when recording or live-streaming.
- And a lot more...

Register your Helix today, upload your proof of purchase and receive your Helix Native licence in your Line 6 account. Free Helix Backpack to be provided at time of purchase by participating dealers
